VI.3) Additional Information

Assessment phase trials (defined in the ITN documentation) will be used to provide quantitative evidence against certain compliance statements made within your bids. Your proposed platform must be available around February 2017 for a minimum period of 3 months and the Authority intends to purchase and blast test 1 representative vehicle. The UK Armed Forces specific mission equipment will not be required to be integrated at this time, however the vehicle's ability to accommodate UK Armed Forces specific mission equipment will be assessed. Performance at these trials will be reflected in your bid scores.

Due to the nature of this project it is not assessed as suitable in its entirety for Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs), however opportunities may exist at the sub-contracting level, and the Authority will publish in the Defence Contracts On-line a Contract Bidders Notice listing the details of those companies being issued an ITN.

Suppliers interested in working with the UK Ministry of Defence should register on the MOS Supplier Information Database (SID) Register, available at www.contracts.mod.uk

The MOD SID is a database of active and potential suppliers available to all MOD and UK Defence Procurement personnel, and is the main supplier database of MOD Procurement organisations.

Please note that registration and publication of a company profile on the MOD SID does not mean or imply that the supplier has in any way been vetted or approved by the MOD. Suppliers wishing to compete for advertised MOD Contracts must respond to any specific call for competition by submitting a separate expression of interest in accordance with the instructions of the purchasing organisation.

From April 2014 the government is introducing its new Government Security Classifications Policy (GSC) to replace the current Government Protective Marking Scheme. A key aspect of this is a reduction in the number of Security Classifications used. All suppliers to the Department are encouraged to make themselves aware of the changes as it may impact on this requirement. The link below to the Gov.uk website provides information on the new GSC.

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/government-security-classifications>

The Authority reserves the right to amend and condition related to the security of information to reflect any changes in national law or government policy.

If any contract documents are accompanied by instructions on safeguarding classified information (e.g. Security Aspects Letter), the Authority reserves the right to amend the terms of these instructions to reflect the changes in national law or government policy, whether in respect of the applicable protective marking scheme, specific protective markings given, the aspects to which any protective marking applies, or otherwise.
